School District Taxpayers Will Get $2 To $5 Break

by JERRY THOMAS

Taxpayers in Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 will get a $2 to $5 break on their next tax bills.

Although the board of education Thursday approved a $12.5 million school budget for the 1972-73 fiscal year and the amount of tax money that the district gets back from the state will be reduced, taxes still should be lower. The figure budgeted is $1.7 million over spendings planned last year.

Business services director Marvin Lapicola said this year's steady assessed valuation growth makes the tax cut possible. Also, the district did not levy for the life safety code improvements since all buildings now meet state requirements.

THE TAX BREAK, according to Lapicola, result of an expected $45 million growth over this year's $208 million assessed valuation. Lapicola explained a tax reduction usually is the result of a rate drop for every $100 of equalized assessed valuation. That has not happened, but the assessed valuation has so greatly increased that the taxpayers in this district will still pay less, he said.

The board has managed to achieve a nearly balanced budget, with expenditures estimated at $12,474,265 and income $12,492,250.

These figures reflect an approximately $17,000 change from those released in the first three drafts of the budget circulated before Thursday's budget hearing.

Lapicola said the changes to the budget were necessary because of damage to the Anne Fox School during a recent storm. The district has no flood insurance and repair expenses must be provided from within the budget.

THE BUDGET represents an increase of approximately $1.75 million over last year's budget.

The instructional salaries fund was decreased about $61,000. However, most of the reductions are in the special services area but do not reflect a reduction in staff. The general classroom teachers salary fund was increased nearly $700,000 above the $6.4 million spent last year.

At present the district is in the midst of negotiating salary contracts with the Schaumburg Education Association representing the teachers.

Lapicola called it a "good budget" because the district has added some 1,000 students to its enrollment since last year and now has a student population of 14,669.

Board, Teachers Reach Tentative Accord

Negotiators for the High School Dist. 211 board of education and the district's teachers reached their first tentative agreement in six months of bargaining Saturday.

Representatives for the two sides approved a two page document outlining general provisions for teacher evaluation at the three-hour-long session. The evaluation procedures will be included in the 1972-73 teachers' salary contract once it is completed.

In addition, the two sides indicated they will be able to agree on guarantees on teacher transfer policy to be included in the contract once specific language is worked out by the district's administrative staff and teacher negotiators.

Another bargaining meeting was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the administration building, 1750 S. Roselle Rd., Palatine. At that meeting the two sides hope to approve the transfer policy, discuss proposals for other working conditions and the overall length of the contract, and perhaps begin talking about salaries and fringe benefits.

"TUESDAY WILL be an ambitious night," Carl Flaks, chairman of the district Education Association, said. "I think we may surprise everybody and get a lot done."

Robert Seger, chairman of the school board negotiating team, presented the teachers with proposals for contract language on joint association-board committees and on operation of the curriculum study committees.

In addition, Seger said although the board has been studying the possibility of making a proposal on some kind of class size guarantees to be included in the contract, it has so far been unable to draw one up.

"We don't see how we can come up with anything on class size without limiting the board's flexibility on providing quality education," Seger said.

Earlier last week, the board abandoned the stand it had taken in the previous six months of talks that it would not include in the contract any guarantees on working conditions, including evaluation and transfer policies.

The board presented a detailed proposal for the whole contract on Thursday. The proposal says the board will agree to negotiate all working conditions in the future if the teachers agree to a three-year contract with a no-strike clause and also agree to exclude department chairmen from the association.

THE THREE-YEAR contract, under the board's offer, would be reopened each year for bargaining on salaries and fringe benefits.

Association negotiators responded Thursday by saying they rejected the provision excluding department chairmen, but would accept other terms proposed if the board would agree to certain conditions.

In return for agreement for the board's proposal, the teachers asked that the no-strike clause be written so it expires with the start of school each year if salaries are not agreed on, that the board agree to binding arbitration in the grievance procedures and that the board agree to negotiate working conditions, including class size guarantees, into the present contract.

The teachers have said they will make a report to their membership on the status of negotiations on Thursday. The district's 440 teachers returned to work last month without a contract and are now being paid based on last year's salary schedule.

Woman In Labor Following Crash

A Hoffman Estates woman said to be between eight and nine months pregnant was reported in labor at Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, following an automobile accident late yesterday morning.

Mrs. Miriam Jenkins, 169 Bode Rd., was involved in an auto collision at Higgins Road and Grnnd Canyon Parkway shortly after 11 a.m.

Driver of the other car was Steven Angrist, 17, of 496 Campbell Ln., Hoffman Estates. He suffered minor lacerations about the face and was expected to be released yesterday afternoon from Alexian Brothers Medical Center, Elk Grove Village, a hospital spokesman said.

The collision occurred when Angrist was driving eastbound on Higgins Road and Mrs. Jenkins was crossing from northbound Grand Canyon to head west on Higgins, according to positions of their cars.

Both were transported by Hoffman Estates Fire Protection District ambulance.

MAINTAINING TOP physical condition is important to Mrs. Linda Smith, a candidate to the 1968 U.S. Olympic Volleyball team and a player on International Village's team. A daily regimen helps her stretch for the win.

Volleyball Champion Moves To IV

by MARILYN HEISER

You can never be a champion in more than one thing. Or so the saying goes.

But Mrs. Linda Smith, who by most standards ranks as a champ in volleyball and softball, contradicts the rule.

A new resident of Schaumburg's International Village, Mrs. Smith has earned national recognition for her skill in the sports. This month, she played in the women's national softball tournament in York, Pa.

And in 1968, she was one of 46 women who were eligible for U. S. Olympic Team volleyball tryouts.

TEN OF THE 46 were chosen for the team, but as Mrs. Smith said, "It's an honor just to be selected for the tryouts."

As a participant in the national competitions of the United States Volleyball Association (USVBA), Mrs. Smith placed three times, in 1968, 1969, and 1970, on the All-American USVBA team.

Before her marriage a year ago, she lived on a 500-acre dairy farm in Portland, Ore. She attended Portland State University on an athletic scholarship.

"Up until college, I hadn't played much volleyball, I was involved in softball," she said.

THAT FIRST year, 1968, Mrs. Smith's team placed third in the college volleyball nationals. She was one of two women on the team named to the All-College team. This achievement and placing on the USVBA All-American team were the keys to the U. S. Olympic tryouts.

"Your team has to place high in the national tournaments or you'll be overlooked. I really owe my success to an

Carey Lists 5 Points Of Platform

Capping a day of campaigning, Bernard Carey Friday night listed five platform points in his meeting with the Republican Organization of Schaumburg Township (ROOST).

Establishment of a merit system for hiring assistant district attorneys on the strength of qualifications, setting up a training program for those assistants to further develop their talents, having personnel on duty 24 hours daily to be available to police in preparing charges and opening storefront offices in high crime areas are measures he proposes to take if elected.

The fifth point was to note that both the Chicago Bar Association and the Chicago Association of Lawyers have judged him fully qualified for office. Both groups have termed Carey's incumbent opponent, Robert Hanrahan, unqualified, Carey said.

CAREY'S DAY in the Schaumburg area started at 7 a.m., with appearances at train stations in Palatine and Roselle, attendance at a number of coffees, a press luncheon, and an appearance at a shopping center. He said he had found here, as well as in other places throughout the county, many Democrats and independent voters promising him their support and votes in the Nov. 7 election.

Polls which showed Carey far behind at the primaries now list him just a few percentage points behind Hanrahan, he said.

Carey hit hard at Chicago machine politics, which he said "steal (votes) across the board from all Republican candidates. They only steal more from us if we get more votes." He said the March primaries showed some Chicago precincts had more Democrats than people," and commented "death does not always disenfranchise people in Chicago."

Vote stealing does not just hurt Chicagoans, said Carey. "They are diluting your vote here in the suburbs, and they are stealing your votes," he said.

CAREY ALSO attacked Hanrahan's conduct in office, saying it had become so subordinated to the Democratic machine it is "chasing some of the best talent from the office." That talent has sometimes come to the state attorney general's office, where Carey is a special assistant in charge of prosecuting state claims against the estate of the late Paul Powell.

Six major cases won by the attorney general's office have been won "by men who were chased from" Hanrahan's office, Carey said.

Accusing Hanrahan of bungling, Carey cited the incumbent's average yearly indictment rate of 5,000 persons. Of those, 2,000 cases are dropped before they ever come to court. Of the remaining, about 54 per cent are convicted, but many of them have pleaded guilty to lesser crimes than they originally faced, said Carey.

Hint Split Between Warman-Jaffe Factions

Warman Launches Campaign, Predicts Victory

by BARRY SIGALE

Edward Warman launched his campaign for state representative in the 4th District Friday by predicting that he and fellow Democrat Aaron Jaffe could sweep two seats in the Illinois House in November.

Warman, in a noon press conference in Niles, said a united front is needed to elect both him and Jaffe to two-year terms. They are running against Robert Juckett, R-Park Ridge, and Eugene Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights.

But there are indications of a split between the Warman-Jaffe factions that could prevent the two from helping each other in the campaign, thus probably shattering Warman's theory that for the first time two Democrats would win election to the house from the 4th District.

THE SUDDEN selection of Warman as Jaffe's running mate on the ticket has been criticized by supporters of the incumbent Jaffe, lending to the Warman-Jaffe rift. Warman was chosen last weekend in a meeting of Maine, Wheeling and Northfield Democratic committeemen after it was announced that Aaron Brill was dropping out of contention because of business reasons.

Warman held to his theory that he and Jaffe could both win in November and that probably 3rd District Rep. Schlickman, now running in the 4th District, would come in last because he is relatively unknown in the district. It would leave Schlickman without an elective office for the first time in 16 years.

"I felt I could do something for our party" by accepting the candidacy, Warman said. "There's nobody in Maine, Northfield, Wheeling or Niles Townships with my experience and name recognition. I received nationwide publicity when I ran in the special election for Congress in 1969 against Phil Crane. It made me relatively known. We don't have to start selling my name. I'm hopeful that with my entering the campaign I can help Jaffe and (Democratic senatorial candidate Thomas) Flynn."

WARMAN ADDED that his selection by the four township committeemen, Nicholas Blase of Maine, James McCabe of Wheeling, and Bernard Peskin of Northfield, was fair. Jaffe, Niles Township Committeeman, refused to attend ship Democratic Organization and that he was "quite pleased" with his reception. "We've had our differences before," Warman said. When asked if Jaffe congratulated him Warman said, "I can't say that he did." Warman added that Jaffe left the meeting early.

According to Warman, "I won't stand on ceremony" when the time comes to talk to Jaffe about running as a team. Facing the prospects that Jaffe would the meeting.

Warman said he attended a meeting last Thursday night of the Niles Town- not accept his efforts to meet with him Warman said, "I guess I'd run into him on the campaign trail."

"It's important to have two strong candidates whether they win or not," Warman philosophized. "Every vote attracted to that fellow helps the whole party. Winning or not is incidental. Through cumulative voting and a solid vote from Democrats we can cause the Republicans to panic a little.

"BUT WE HAVE to start slugging at the Republicans. If he (Jaffe) gets the vote, or me, from the Republicans it's good for the party. We have strength in the area. Skokie has strong Democratic precincts. And so does unincorporated Maine Township and the Village of Niles and west Morton Grove."

Then Warman talked of his hopes that both he and Jaffe would win.

"For us to win, some Republican would have to come in first, then us second and third and the other Republican fourth," said Warman. He said that since Schlickman was not as well known in the 4th District as the other candidates and that he is from Wheeling Township, which only has 40 precincts in the district, it would be the Arlington Heights legislator who would lose.

But Schlickman has different ideas. "I don't consider myself an underdog, and it doesn't bother me if they call me one," Schlickman said Saturday. "Certainly the nature of the race has now changed. There are now four candidates with prior legislative experience. We have four candidates who have each succeeded before. It should be a better race. The campaign will result in a meaningful test of each of the candidates. I personally welcome that."

SCHLICKMAN SAID there has been conflict between Blase, who supported Warman, and Jaffe and that "heaven only knows" what effect the entry of Warman into the campaign will have.

"Aaron will run independently as he has done in the past," Schlickman said. Two years ago the second Democrat could have won in the 4th District (if Jaffe would have helped his running mate Kenneth Lindquist of Des Plaines). But now, the new, redistricted 4th District differs. There are more Republican districts than in the old 4th."

Schlickman said he is not as unknown in the 4th District as Warman has said. Schlickman said he ran for Congress in Niles Township and has gained metropolitan area wide exposure while holding office in the legislature.

Unit System Topic For School Council

Unit school districting will be the subject of the first open meeting of the 1972-73 school year for the Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 School Community Council, 8 p.m., Wednesday at Holmes Junior High School, 1900 W. Lonnquist Blvd., Mount Prospect.

James Erviti, superintendent of the district, will speak on unit districting. A question and answer session will follow.

The effect of unit districting on education, taxes and school-community relations will be included in Erviti's presentation.

In unit district, all grades, K-12, are under a single school administration. Dist. 59 now controls only grades K-8. High school grades are under the administration of School Dist. 214.

Extend Deadline For Filing Of Homestead Paper

The deadline for filing Homestead Exemption applications with the Cook County assessor's office has been extended to Oct. 1.

A spokesman for County Assessor P. J. Cullerton said the deadline, originally Sept. 1, was extended because of the large number of senior citizens who had not filed.

The Homestead Exemption grants a discount on real estate taxes to property owners 65 years of age or older and live in their own homes as of Jan. 1, 1972.

Tax savings which can amount to more than $115 per year for a homeowner in Cook County are provided for by the exemption.

The amount of the exemption is computed by reducing the equalized assessed valuation of the home by $1,500 on tax bills payable next year.

In order to qualify for the exemption, homeowners need a copy of a deed showing they owned the property as of Jan. 1, 1972; proof of age; and a completed Homestead Exemption application form.

Application forms and assistance in completing the forms are available at all township offices and at Cullerton's office, 118 N. Clark St., Chicago.

Between the Lines

Communication A 2-Way Street

by JERRY THOMAS

The wisdom of wringing the last drop of service from a servant who has a new master is obscure when this action dulls the enthusiasm of the eager new worker.

Mrs. Connie Schoeld, chairman of the Schaumburg Township Mental Health Board, insists a sincere concern for proper service for Schaumburg Township is behind her move to delay support of a new health service. At a recent meeting of the board she was reluctant to give up the service of the Northwest Mental Health Association, no longer responsible for providing mental health care in Schaumburg Township.

Elk Grove Village Community Service now has that responsibility, together with serving Elk Grove Township residents. The agency received a state grant, and its director, Jordan Rosen, has publicly and enthusiastically announced the agency wants to serve.

Mrs. Schoeld encouraged her committee to delay requesting appointments to the Elk Grove Community Service board of directors when she should have encouraged such action to facilitate the transition.

ALTHOUGH a majority of members at the meeting and Vern Laubenstein, Schaumburg Township supervisor, cautioned each other about "throwing cold water" on Rosen's fired up enthusiasm and the Elk Grove Community Service plans for the township, they still gave no support to the new agency.

The main thrust of Mrs. Schoeld's and Herman Heinecke's concern seemed to be getting written confirmation from NMHA that services the agency is supposed to continue providing Schaumburg Township until July, 1973, will be pulled out slowly.

Heinecke insists NMHA was given funds to maintain service to that date. "So why shouldn't we get what we can from both agencies?" he asked.

A state mental health board member present for the session tried to tell the members that Elk Grove Community Service and NMHA have talked and are coordinating services to Schaumburg Township residents.

NO ONE PAID too much attention to the comment or the fact that NMHA eventually will stop serving Schaumburg Township.

Mrs. Schoeld's concern may be sincere. She disputes NMHA figures that say about 25 residents are now served by the agency and says Elk Grove Community Service, with a small budget can't take care of both townships this year.

But her attitude is not helping Elk Grove get started.

The funny thing about the whole issue is that the board isn't too sure NMHA services are adequate. There was talk between the members that the outpost worker who puts in eight hours a day in the township "wasn't the best."

Yet, the final action of the members was to ask NMHA to keep the outpost open for one more month while they decide if they want to kick out NMHA or force it to continue serving the area.

A little bit of communication would help. Mrs. Schoeld has complained that communications are lacking; yet it appears the agencies have been talking. The problem is Schaumburg Township Mental Health Board members are not listening.

Golden Group Plans Shopping, Lunch Tour

A day-long shopping and luncheon trip in Elgin and East Dundee is being planned for members of the S and H Golden Group in Schaumburg on Thursday.

The bus trip will depart at 10:30 a.m. from the Meineke Community Center, 220 E. Weathersfield Way, Schaumburg. Shopping is planned at Lee Ward's, a specialty store which sells handicraft and sewing items, in Elgin.

Lunch is planned at the Viking Smorgasbord Restaurant in East Dundee. A special tour of the Heager Pottery at 2 p.m. also is planned.

The group will return to Schaumburg at 3:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling the Schaumburg Park District at 894-4660 by Tuesday.

A True Champ Moves To IV

excellent coach and a good team," she said.

In 1970, Mrs. Smith also tried out for Pan-Am games held in Chile that year. the

When she married Michael Smith, a communications chief for Associated Press, the couple moved to Louisville Ky.

"Louisville didn't have a USVBA team. I joined the national softball team, the Louisville Highlanders, but I really missed volleyball in Louisville."

THE HIGHLANDERS placed fourth in the national tournaments this month in Pennsylvania. "I definitely want to get on one of the Illinois volleyball teams. There are two in Chicago that compete nationally, and one team places high."

Mrs. Smith is pleased to be in the Chicago area. "Louisville was so frustrating. It's a slow-paced, unprogressive, apathetic place. And the caliber of athletics is far behind what I'm used to."

Since her husband was transferred to Chicago a month ago, Mrs. Smith has been taking courses at Harper College. "I plan to attend Northern Illinois or George Williams College this winter. They are ranked number one and two in elementary education and physical education, and have strong volleyball teams."

Mrs. Smith plans to be an elementary physical education teacher. "PE is terribly important for young children. If kids aren't taught good basic skills, they'll never be any good at sports. Children are discouraged so easily. If a child can find one area where he has competence, he'll tackle anything."

According to Mrs. Smith, there are three basic skills in volleyball — spiking, blocking, and setting. The national teams, she said, look for people with all three skills. Most women on the Olympic team are rarely shorter than 5' 9", she said. Mrs. Smith is 5' 6".

"I WISH I WERE taller." If a short girl spikes a ball over the net, a tall person can block it. And in power volleyball, Mrs. Smith said, spikes travel in excess of 100 miles an hour.

The International Village champ said she is mainly a setter and a defensive back row player. A back row player, she said, tries to dig the ball up so a person in the front row can spike it over the net.

Timing, coordination, and fast reflexes are more important in volleyball than physical strength, Mrs. Smith said. To keep herself in condition, she runs around the International Village complex twice every day, a distance of about two miles.

She also does pushups and 150 sit-ups daily with a weight tied behind her neck.

"GOD? WHO'S HE?" Hundreds of local people have been gathering in each other's homes, in Bible studies, Campus Life meetings, and coffee houses, trying to decide for themselves if God is real. They cover questions about why evil exists, the application of Scripture to everyday life and the purpose of their existence. Campus Life held one of its first organizational meetings at the home of Gene Menia, 735 S. Merle, Wheeling.

Looking For Something To Believe In

by JEAN CAFARELLA

First of Three Parts

Are "Jesus people" freaky? Just a bumper sticker, a button, and a Jesus T-shirt? Merely kids under 21 with a new high?

If Jesus "freaks" are around this area, they didn't show up after a three-week search. But Jesus people were all over the place, from age nine to 81, and as ordinary-looking as your next-door neighbor.

Furthermore, they're not necessarily sold on the popular images of Jesus Christ, as presented in "Jesus Christ, Superstar" and "Godspell." One expressed the common opinion that the music was nice, but Jesus comes off as a "clown with a messianic complex," not as a saviour.

So are they religious fanatics? Many of them say they are simply people looking for something to believe in. In fact, many were raised as Christians, lost faith, and returned to Christianity after finding other ways of achieving happiness short-lived.

THE SPECIFIC definition of "Jesus people" is an elusive one, but the fact is that they are part of a religious movement recently revived in this country, and extending right to the homes and neighborhoods of the suburbs.

They often belong to no particular denomination, but by their beliefs and life styles share a common bond: an enthusiasm about Christ and his message to humanity, which they also want to share with others.

They insist that they are not "freaks," but that their sincerity about Jesus is real and permanent, arrived at after much thought and experience with other ways of living. They refer to themselves simply as Christians, and their numbers — in small and large groups — are growing.

Julie Tollefson of Arlington Heights says she was looking for the meaning behind the existence. She tried hunger strikes and boycotting grapes in high school, but said it was no answer. In her senior year she did a study of religions, and was attracted to the Bahai faith and its stress on unity and brotherhood.

HOWEVER, THE peace soon wore off, and there was a "place that needed filling in my heart."

Julie began attending monthly Jesus rallies at McCormick Place, sponsored by the Chicagoland Christian center in Des Plaines, and went to Explo '72 in Dallas, Tex. Then she met Bruce Leckie of Arlington Heights, who said he had also been seeking and found his answer in Christ. Together they started a Bible study, inviting about a dozen teens who had attended the Jesus rallies. They began meeting in July at each other's homes.

"People are sometimes afraid Christians are out to convert them and get notches in their Bible belts," said Julie. For this reason she uses the soft sell, rather than beating people over the head with the Bible. The one time she went door-to-door with copies of the New Testament, she simply told them it was a gift and left, unless invited to say more.

She and Leckie also took out an ad in the Herald, which said "Behold, I come quickly . . . " (signed) Jesus. They had no money for the ad, but the day of her interview she unexpectedly received enough cash to pay for it from a friend in Detroit, a coincidence she considered a miracle.

JULIE LEFT recently for Kabul, Afghanistan, to work at a mission for a year. Kabul is a crossroads for European kids seeking an answer in the religions of the East. Julie plans to help give them food and clothing, and just "share the love of Jesus."

Her friend Bruce was one who thought he had an answer in yoga. He had decided whatever made the early Christian happy existed no longer, and that modern Christians were either naive or ignorant.

While at the University of Wisconsin, "a guy on the floor was onto a religion trip. I thought I'd help him out of his ignorance," he said.

The two talked for hours, and Leckie decided he had everything to gain by abandoning yoga for Jesus. He began reading the gospels. He also started attending Christian conferences in Wisconsin, Colorado, and Washington. "Those people were bubbling over with joy; they knew who they were praying to," he said.

HE SPREADS the word as opportunity arises. Whether he's with a group of people, or talking to a hitch-hiker, or even talking with a girl who's trying to sell a magazine subscription — if the topic comes up he discusses the difference between Christianity and "what's been pawned off as Christianity."

"I always thought of Christianity as an hour on Sunday," he said. "Now I get so wigged out when I think that God walked the face of the earth as a man. This isn't just a head trip, it's real."

Mrs. Debbie Cormier of Elk Grove Village, a mother of four young children, became bored with the "hour on Sunday" when she was about 20. After enjoying what the world had to offer, she became dissatisfied and asked herself what her true values were.

When the McCormick Place Jesus rallies began last March, she got interested and helped charter a bus to go downtown. About 55 people take the bus each month, and of those, between 10 and 15 say they have made a commitment to Christ.

MRS. CORMIER also started a Bible group last fall. As she became more interested in the Bible, she wondered about the "gifts" of the Holy Spirit, such as speaking in tongues, prophecy, interpretation, and preaching. "The power of God is meant to be the rule and not the exception," she decided. Since then, she said she has received some of these gifts. In addition, she lost her desire to smoke.

Mrs. Shirley Bates of Buffalo Grove says she has also received the gift of tongues, which sounds like baby talk to her. She uses it when she prays privately. (The gift is explained as God praying through the person, improving his prayer,) when the person runs out of his own words.

Mrs. Bates said she turned to Jesus when she needed help raising her youngest son, Jeffrey, who was born blind. She says she has changed so much she no longer worries about money. When she needed money for her son Greg's college education, she found a student teacher who wanted to rent a room; she gives God the credit.

She started a Bible group called the Carriers, but doesn't try to convert unwilling souls. "You can't over-feed or force-feed Jesus to someone. When you're over-fed, you get sick," she said.

WHILE THESE people turned to Jesus voluntarily, others have fallen into line out of desperation. Cathi Green of Palatine reported she said her first sincere prayer when the guy she liked got in trouble for drug possession. The way of life recommended by Christ "sounded so simple I felt like a dingaling."

Since then she said she visited Wausau, Wis., and met two big drug pushers; they accepted Jesus and started a Bible group. "I just try to show Christ living in me, and others ask, 'What is it you've got?' " said Cathi.

A young Wheeling man might never have attended a Jesus rally if his girlfriend hadn't been singing at one. He said he was heavily into drugs like LSD, psychologically addicted, and was a supplier in high school. He reported he found truth at the rally, and began a Bible group last May which 15 to 20 attend. It was his "missing jigsaw puzzle piece."

He quit using drugs and may go back to college, starting over and spreading the word. He said he has seen some conversions, and "you don't have to push on people. Deep down they know it's the truth anyway."

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

Oswald: "We watched a rubber bridge game the other day with fair players involved. There were plenty of mistakes made as you would expect but there were a great many hands that should interest our readers."

Jim: "What about this one? A club lead would beat four hearts quickly and surely. What happened after West opened a diamond?"

Oswald: "Declarer started with a rush. He cashed dummy's ace and king of diamonds to discard a club loser. Then he played ace-king and six of spades."

Jim: "Looks like a pretty good start."

Oswald: "It was a pretty good start but it wasn't quite good enough. West ruffed with the eight of hearts and declarer had to use dummy's 10 to overruff.

"A trump from dummy produced the three from East, the jack from South and the ace from West. West cashed his ace of clubs and led a low diamond. East ruffed with the king and led his last spade, whereupon West set the hand by ruffing with his nine of trumps."

Jim: "A brilliant series of defensive plays. I can't really blame South for his line of play. East and West just came up with some real razzle-dazzle defense."

How Much Should Music Lessons Cost?

Folks sometimes tell us that music lessons are "cheap" or that music lessons are "expensive." When they do we try to explain that the monetary cost of lessons alone is not a good criteria for judging whether they are "cheap" or "expensive." For example we have seen lessons which cost $8.00 a half hour which were better values than some lessons which cost only $2.00 a half hour. In fact it might be wise to ask probing questions of a teacher who charges less than competent counterparts, for there might be a reason.

Whatever the teacher you choose charges you can assure that it will be a bargain price by understanding these two things:
1. That a low price is not a substitute for competent instruction.
2. That to save money you must be prepared to make a long-range commitment to regular lesson attendance and honest daily practice.

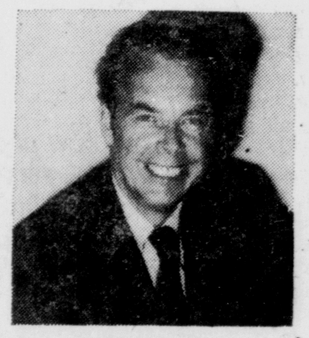
How can competent teaching be assured? One way is by referral. If a friend is pleased the chance is good that you will be pleased also. But ask questions anyway, for sometimes folks think a student is progressing when he's only learning new songs, and there's a big difference. The question is, "What progress is the student making musically?"
1. Is the understanding of music theory growing?
2. Is the quality of technic and interpretation improving?
3. Is the literature growing progressively more complex?
4. Is the student becoming more literate musically?

If you would like a printed outline of what a music student should know and understand at the 3, 6, 12, and 24 month level of instruction on any of the popular instruments ask us for one.

According to the American Music Conference 3 out of 4 students who begin private music study drop out within the first year, never again to know the educational benefits and enjoyment of music. Yet study after study has proven that any normal student can learn and benefit educationally from instrumental music study. Loss of these advantages is too high a price for cheap instruction.

Once in the hands of a competent teacher the most efficient way to reduce tuition cost is to maximize honest practice time, for music is learned in practice, not in the lesson! The teacher can show the student how to practice but the student learns by practicing. This is why the staff at our school expects and demands a minimum of one half hour a day or as much time as is needed to prepare the assignment, and why comprehensive progress reports are issued monthly to parents.

In effect doubling honest practice time cuts tuition cost in half because twice as much can be learned by the student in the same period of time. You are not cheating yourself nearly as much when you miss a lesson that is paid for as you are when regular practice is neglected because the competent teacher is always readily available for help by telephone.



Lyle Shuey

Therefore, we think of regular attendance and practice as the real cost of learning to play a musical instrument. This is why we consider our tuition cost of $17.00 a month as representing a convenient method of budgeting the cost of an instrumental music education over an extended period of time rather than being based on a haphazard number of "lessons."
An education in instrumental music cannot be "bought" anymore than a college education can be "bought." It requires rather an investment of oneself as the first and most important requirement. Secondly; the monetary investment and selection of competent instruction, advice and facilities.

Your decision, then, should first be whether you are prepared to make the necessary commitment for regular lesson appointments. Secondly, devotion to regular daily practice in order to have assignments prepared, and therefore maintain the required grade levels. And, thirdly, make these time and money commitments over the period of time needed to accomplish the goals you wish to reach.

If you decide to study with us, your success will be guaranteed in two ways:
1. Our success percentage is well over 95% compared to the national average of 25%.
2. If after 30 days you are not thoroughly pleased, we refund every penny of tuition paid, and part friends.

Register before September 30th and receive your first lesson . . . FREE!

Shuey's also rents and sells the World's best known musical instruments and accessories including pianos, organs, band and orchestral instruments, guitars, sheet music, and accessories, thereby assuring you of the proper choice of instrument to facilitate learning. You are also secure with our traditional guarantee. Both you and we must be pleased with your choice of instrument.

Religion Today

by Rev. Lester Kinsolving

MIAMI BEACH — The two top leaders of the Republican National Convention, Kansas Sen. Robert Dole and Michigan Congressman Gerald Ford, told this writer during exclusive interviews that they definitely favor legalizing abortion in such cases as the atrocity reported by the Associated Press this summer in Chicago.

One of eight children of a mother living on welfare was raped on a school playground. She was impregnated. She is eleven (11) years old.

(Fortunately an abortion referral service was able to provide the funds to get the girl to New York, where the abortion law is not so barbaric as to require nancy, as is the case under Illinois law.) barrass the President," (who has repeat-

Despite the expressed conviction of both Dole and Ford (as well as Julie Nixon Eisenhower and Tricia Nixon Cox) that abortion should not be invariably illegal, the GOP Convention pointedly ignored this compelling moral issue.

Its Platform (resolutions) Committee relegated this, one of the most controversial of all religious issues, to a subcommittee, whose members were apparently bound and determined "not to embarrass the President," (who has repeaedly opposed abortion law liberation during the past year.)

THEY disregarded testimony from women's group, religious denominations and California Congressman Paul McCloskey, among others. McCloskey, when asked whether he thought that the issue could even be discussed on the Convention floor, replied:

"It depends on whether there are any women delegates with any guts."

Congressman Ford, as permanent chairman of the Convention, told this writer that a pro-abortion amendment to the platform would definitely not be arbitrarily quashed from the chair by nonrecognition of the proposer.

But no such amendment was even offered.

Instead of dealing with such cases as the atrocity of rape on a school playground, the platform committee came up with a stirring defense of a child's right to pray voluntarily.

In delving into this other red hot religious issue, the committee resolved:

"Voluntary prayer (does this mean silent or verbal — and led by whom?) should be freely permitted in public places (undefined) — particularly by school children while attending public schools (In class? Before class? After class? During recess? In the locker room, cafeteria or athletic field?) provided that such prayers are not prepared or prescribed by the state — and that no person's participation is coerced."

AT THAT TIME he explained: "If you try to be too specific, you run into all kinds of problems!"

Resolutions Committee Chairman John Rhodes of Arizona, when asked during a press conference to provide some explanation as to the specific meaning and intent of this puzzling plank, replied irritably that he would discuss it after the press conference was over.

When pressed for at least one specific he replied: "Yes, well we should allow atheists to officiate," at such services — although he appeared discomfited when asked if he thought that Satanists should be allowed to lead the prayer sessions.

However, he was no clearer about the specific meaning and purposes of this preposterous plank than were 12 other members of the committee, as well as two Ph.D.s on the committee staff. Yet this, as part of a 78-page Republican Platform, was adopted by the Convention without dissent, and after just twenty minutes of debate.

Commented Congressman McCloskey:

"This is not a Convention at all. It is a carefully staged scenario written in the White House."

Few Diocese Recognize Divorces?

In some American dioceses, Catholics who have been divorced and remarried are being allowed to receive communion.

No one knows exactly how many dioceses are involved, but the practice apparently is widespread across the nation.

It has been going on for some time, but has been kept quiet in order to avoid a possible crackdown by the Vatican.

Inevitably, the word got out and now there's heated discussion in the Catholic press and among moral theologians about the whole business.

In the past, a Catholic who was divorced and remarried was regarded in all or virtually all dioceses as being excommunicated — that is, cut off from sacraments such as communion.

The only way such a Catholic could regain the right to receive communion was to have his or her first marriage declared null and void by the Roman Rota, a Vatican court specializing in annulment proceedings.

THIS WAS A costly and time-consuming process, beset by many technicalities. The Roman Rota has demonstrated through the centuries a readiness to accommodate the rich and powerful, but a passion for nitpicking legality where ordinary Catholics are involved.

Out of compassion for the millions of people trapped in this dilemma, a substantial number of U.S. priests and some bishops have begun to re-admit to communion Catholics who believe in good conscience that their first marriage was not a true one, but that their present marriage is binding before God.

This pastoral dispensation is granted only in cases where the present marriage is stable and the family is devout in Catholic belief and practice.

A SPOKESMAN for the Vatican's Holy Office said recently, in response to an inquiry from the U.S. weekly newspaper, National Catholic Reporter, that he knew of no present plan of the Roman Curia to crack down on the practice with a blanket prohibition.

But a judge of the Roman Rota took a sterner view. He told the National Catholic Reporter:

"There are a lot of good Catholics stuck with this impossible situation. Pastorally you have to feel sorry for them. But they must be reminded that marriage is not a private affair but a fiber of society and a sacrament. Even if only a technicality keeps them from a clear slate, they must give up the sacraments."

Ogilvie Eyes A 5-County Campaign

Gov. Richard Ogilvie said Friday he would concentrate the remainder of his reelection campaign efforts on the populous five county metropolitan area including and surrounding Cook County.

Ogilvie, winding up a whirlwind campaign in southern Illinois told members of the Cook County Suburban Publishers Association at its annual meeting in Oakbrook, that the final leg of his relelection campaign would come after a fund-raising dinner in Chicago this week.

The governor warmed up for the home stretch of his campaign by attacking his opponent, Democrat Daniel Walker, and stressing he isn't as unpopular throughout the state as Walker has charged.

"We've gone 1,600 miles in our camper. We've been to 60 different communities in the past 10 to 12 days. And I have been agreeably surprised at the reception I've been getting. I don't know where my opposition (Walker) is finding my cticitcs."

OGILVIE SAID he has been receiving favorable comment lately on the state's implementation of the income tax. He said citizens realize it's a good program now that they've seen its effect.

e "People are now saying there was no other way to go. W e had three choices at the time, either implement the tax, go bankrupt or use the funds we already had. If we didn't have the income tax we would have had a sales tax of seven to nine per cent and 35 to 50 per cent higher personal property taxes. I'm most proud of the legislation we have passed. Some were not pleasant, like the income tax. But they were necessary."

Referring to Walker as "a master of distortion," Ogilvie said he is convinced Walker and Democratic Presidential candidate George McGovern will lose in November.

"I don't take my own campaign polls," Ogilvie said. "They're expensive. And they wouldn't make any difference to me. I would campaign just as hard anyway. But I am pleased at lifelong Democrats who have told me they won't vote for Walker or McGovern. People say they can't go along with the Democratic leadership.

"There is a major disaffection with the Democratic party. It's not that I'm so popular, but people are not satisfied with those who have seized control of the Democratic party. In November, people will vote in large numbers for President Nixon and the state ticket. Ogilvie added he is optimistic the Republican Party will pick up two or three congressional seats in Illinois.

DURING A question and answer period, Ogilvie said a cooperative effort among governmental agencies is needed to solve future flooding problems, that noise pollution at O'Hare airport must be accepted if there is to be an airport serving the Chicago area, and a major program of his — if reelected — would be to solve the major transportation problems in the Chicago area.

Following the meeting, a nine minute film was shown. It highlighted the governor's four years in office with favorable comments from several persons including Sen. Charles Percy.

Later, Ogilvie announced that within two weeks 60 volunteer citizen headquarters will be opened throughout the suburban area. Directing the citizen campaign will be Joseph Tecson, Riverside Township committeeman, who will be assisted by Mrs. Anne Evans of Des Plaines, statewide chairman of the Independents for Ogilvie Committee. Mrs. Evans is a former delegate to the Illinois Constitutional Convention.

Propose Moratorium On Flood Plain Building

A moratorium on future construction projects on flood plains in Cook County was proposed Saturday at a major meeting of area legislators and governmental officials who are studying flooding problems in the area.

The moratorium, it was suggested, could give various federal, state and local governments time to develop cooperative plans and allocate monies to prevent the kind of flooding which hit both Cook and DuPage Counties Aug. 25.

The proposal was taken under advisement by those attending the meeting and a decision on this and other proposals would be made within a week to 10 days, according to Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington.

Graham, who called the meeting to achieve a "spirit of cooperation" and to "solve a problem too large for any one of us or any one group alone," said there was enough blame to go around for the major flooding that has occurred in the past.

"I'm not going to say to you today that we can solve the problem tomorrow, because I'm not," Graham said. "But I can say to you that the senator from Barrington and his colleagues here will launch a coordinated attack, throw money at it from every direction and offer a plan to be given to the governor, General Assembly, mayors and federal government.

"We don't want to restrain growth but to guide it," Graham said. "I have great compassion for those people who were hit by flooding. There will be subsequent meetings held to solve these problems."

The three hour meeting included representatives of the governmental agencies most responsible for flood control and state legislators and officials of the several municipalities most affected by the recent flooding.

A SLIDE PRESENTATION by Tom Hamilton of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service dramatized to the 75 persons attending the meeting the effect on lives and property that resulted from the Aug. 25 floods.

The slides showed a flood plain with homes built right next to them. "The guy who buys a home there won't know he's in a bad spot until it's too late," Hamilton said. He also showed a man in Wood Dale who had just returned from a vacation to find all his furniture ruined, his basement flooded and other valuables destroyed. Hamilton pointed to the shock on the man's face. "It's all our faults, collectively," Hamilton said.

Jack Walsh, former mayor of Arlington Heights and now assistant director of Local Government Affairs, represented Gov. Richard Ogilvie at the meeting. He read from a text prepared by the governor in which he placed the blame for flooding problems on different leople.

"LET US ALL agree that while we work together to solve a problem, a measure of responsibility exists for what happened," part of the statement reads.

"For example, many of the damaged homes were built in the natural flood plains. Why? Too many local governments were unwilling to use flood plains for recreational purposes but rather allowed residential development.

"Recommendations from planners were ignored as municipal tax revenues were sought at the expense of confronting honestly the difficult issue of flood plain development. Developers did not hesitate to build in these areas and sell to unsuspecting buyers. And homeowners themselves failed to delve deeply into possible problems in the locations of homes they purchased," the statement said.

Third Dist. State Reps. David Regner, R-Mount Prospect, and Eugenia Chapman, D-Arlington Heights, and Arlington Heights mayor John Woods, all expressed support of the meeting and hoped that a viable solution could be found.

"IN THE PAST several years," Regner said, "We've had piecemeal solutions. I'm delighted to see today the exchange of information. It's a great step forward toward putting the pieces together."

Mrs. Chapman said, "we need to do what we're doing but faster and by spending more money. What we've done isn't enough. We must change our priorities, put the heat on, to put the attention on flooding. We have to keep this alive in dry time as well as wet."

Woods said he was encouraged by the meeting and that either higher taxes are needed or money must be taken away from other concerns such as education if the flooding problem is to be solved.

Choose Airport Study Unit

Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff will be recommended for village board approval tomorrow to perform a feasibility study for a municipally owned airport in Schaumburg.

The firm was chosen by 5-to-1 vote of the village airport study committee Thursday.

Estimated fee range of the study, expected to take slightly more than six months to complete following Federal Aviation Administration approval, is from $25,000 to $30,000.

After six months of preliminary work, committee members chose HNT&B over Vickrey-Wines (in combination with Arnold Thompson Associates) because the firm better addressed itself to a request for proposal prepared by the group.

The Vickrey-Wines-Thompson proposal estimated four months' completion time following FAA approval and gave a fee range of between $36,000 and $42,000.

HNT&B was to be advised of its selection as consultants in the Schaumburg Airport project by telephone Friday by committee chairman Ray LeBeau.

Two-thirds of the study's cost will be paid through an FAA planning grant; one-sixth will be picked up by the Illinois Department of Aeronautics, and the remainder will come from the village as project sponsor. That portion will come from a revenue bond program and will cause no taxpayer burden.

IN THE HNT&B study plan, the existing privately owned Schaumburg Airport will be considered first. If that site is found unworkable for an expanded operation, other locations then will be considered.

HNT&B was deemed preferable by a majority of the committee due to previous experience in FAA master planning grant projects.

The firm also will prepare a forecast of demand for the Northwest suburbs and an analysis of the demand for an airport in the community.

A comprehensive environmental study also will be included, as required by the FAA.

HNT&B was the choice of LeBeau and committee members Bob Starzyk, Ron DeBrincat and Tim Smith, as well as Trustee Denis Ledgerwood, who served as committee chairman until appointed to the village board last month. Bob Sanders was the lone committee member voting in favor of the Vickrey-Wines-Thompson combination.

Seeks To Prevent The Study

In a last ditch effort to prevent an airport expansion feasibility study, Jane Murphy will present petitions signed by 1,000 local residents when the village board meets tomorrow.

Last week, however, Mrs. Murphy refused to let members of the airport study committee read the text of the petition. "You'll see it Tuesday" retorted Mrs. Murphy during one of several heated exchanges at Thursday's airport committee meeting.

Again Mrs. Murphy questioned the propriety of a committee which she describes as consisting of persons mostly associated with aviation. She said membership should have included a cross section of the community.

She charged that Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, consultants selected to perform the study, are "members of the Chicago Cross Town Association" and said, though that might not disqualify the firm, at least indicates support of the controversial Cross Town Project.

Committee member Bob Starzyk explained, however, that the firm is acting as consultant engaged to do a feasibility study in the Cross Town question and is not a member of the association.

MRS. MURPHY said she objects to the idea that hospitals and schools, in her opinion, will not receive adequate consideration in the study. Committee members told her Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) guidelines, which are comprehensive, will be used.

Mrs. Murphy suggested adequate consideration was not being given to noise from O'Hare International Airport and noted that committee members have not made any attempt to obtain certain reports and other literature she has recommended to them.

Piqued by frequent interruptions from Mrs. Murphy, the committee emphasized that members were meeting to deliberate on selection of a consulting firm. They also stressed that adequate time for objections will be provided in public hearings prior to site selection and village acquisition.

Eight other area residents also attended the study committee meeting.

Ledgerwood and others have stressed that all records and materials being used by the committee are open to the public and may be examined on request. "Apparently that is not true, though, of Mrs. Murphy's petitions," he observed.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A CLASSIC LOOK for Fall '72. A long-sleeved crewneck sweater is teamed with a bias-cut maxi skirt fashioned of polyester plaid.

A NEW STYLING IN SLEEVES. The dolman-sleeve turtleneck sweater will be fashionably important this fall and winter. Sweaters and pants are a winning combination. The addition of a suede vest offers an elegant layered look.

A VERSATILE JACKET. Double-breasted and gently shaped, this tailored grey flannel "school" blazer can be worn with slacks, jumper or skirt.

Mix And Match

Go The Separates Route This Fall

by GENIE CAMPBELL

A sure fire way to jump into the mainstream of fashion this fall and winter is by going the separates route.

"Mix and match" and "layer up" are guidelines for the female shopper who is anxious to update her wardrobe.

There are endless combination possibilities and the outcome can be a very individualized look. The pieces are there. You have to put them together.

The favorite word still being kicked around this season is "classic." No more gimmicks, women are being told. Yet each new season does bring in its quota of new fads and this fall is no different.

High on the list of new styling ideas are the fall '72 baggies. They're the biggest, blooming trousers now being seen around. Either high rise with pleats or hip hanging, they're usually deeply cuffed with exaggerated legs hanging full and free.

Give yourself time to evaluate the new look. It is a change and for many women not the most flattering to make.

IN ADDITION, palazzo pants, colossal floor-length culottes, are the big news in evening wear.

Big tops are back, but cut short to the navel. Batwing and dolman sleeves are the prime influences in this fall's line of jackets, coats, suits and sweaters.

And while we're on the subject of sweaters, it should be made clear that knitted tops are coming back into their own. They are being teamed with everything, including long skirts for evening, kilts for daytime wear and, of course, the short ones are ideal for wearing with baggies.

The sweaters receiving the most attention this season are made out of fuzzy angora or mohair. A new touch factor has been added. General appearance is no longer enough.

Then, too, substitutes for the sweater are many. Toppers, shrinks, vests and smocks, cut in all different lengths, are also available.

TO FULLY ACCENT the layered look, the blazer is becoming an essential wardrobe item. Choose one in a colorful corduroy that can be worn casually with pants or dressed up for evening when coupled with a long skirt.

Fabrics this season are flooding the market in a multitude of plaids and tweeds. And quilting, once reserved solely for linings, turns itself inside out and becomes the outside of jackets, coats and even jeans.

And just as abundant as blanket-plaid wools are the pleats. Bring out your kilts and long knee socks. It's once again a winning combination. Longer versions of the kilt, complete with the pin, are saved for evening.

Other fashion items being used to build up layers are turtlenecks, lots of body suits and blouses in small wallpaper prints with white collars and cuffs.

The important factor to keep in mind while shopping for fall and winter is just what combinations you're after. Know what you can match together to come out ahead in building up the most functional wardrobe — one that will last and can be carried over, instead of being only a one-season item.

BAGGY PANTS ARE WITH IT. Low-rise pants have welt-stitched side panels to make them fall full and loose. A square-neck shrink over a color-coordinated turtleneck completes the layered look.

Mary Sherry

Friendly Housebreaker

I am getting a reputation in our neighborhood for being a housebreaker. I lack the qualifications for being a housebreaker — a considerably different occupation. My standard equipment as a housebreaker is my can opener.

Apparently word had got around that I helped a couple of locked out neighbors back inside their houses with a can opener. I have been carrying this can opener ever since it helped me to get back in my own house one keyless afternoon. For some reason a can opener is easier to remember to carry than a key.

Last Saturday a little girl, the daughter of an acquaintance, appeared on her bike telling me they were locked out of their house. I knew her parents were away for the weekend, and because her mother was a close friend of the lady across the street, I sent the child over there to see if she had an extra key. When she came back, I then realized someone had sent her for me and my can opener.

WHEN I ARRIVED at her house, the babysitter and several of her friends met me and explained that the police were trying to get in one of the back windows. I was about to leave the job to them when the girls explained that they were afraid a window might get broken, and please wouldn't I try anyway.

So I got out my tool and went to work on the garage door. It didn't respond immediately, and I knew I was going to have to call all my resources to work on this one.

"You're Mrs. Sherry," a voice said in a factual tone over my shoulder. "I can tell by your can opener." The speaker was the next door neighbor of the locked out family — a man whom I had never met.

By this time the police car had attracted 17 adults, 41 children and eight dogs. "There are more people here now than when Murphys' dryer blew up!" the sitter exclaimed excitedly.

A LITTLE KID came running around from the back yard. "The police have a storm window up about a quarter of an inch!" he reported breathlessly.

Now my honor was at stake. Obviously the can opener wouldn't do the trick so I reached desperately for something else I could use. The first thing I found was my own set of house keys. It was just possible that one might . . . Sure enough my garage door key worked in this garage door as though it belonged to a matched set, though it appeared different from mine.

Now I am waiting to be tapped for a PR job for a lock company. I could be one of those people — usually reformed cat burglars — who appear on TV talk shows and show how easy it is to break in.

I wonder if, after a whirlwind tour and instant fame, my neighbors would ceremoniously welcome me home with a key to our subdivision. If they did, I'm sure it would fit in every door!

Women In Construction Week

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and Mayor Richard J. Daley have proclaimed this week, Sept. 10-16, as Women in Construction (WIC) Week. There are seven WIC chapters in Illinois. The official proclamation will be presented to Chicago Chapter President Geraldine Conrick, Charlson Plumbing Co., Des Plaines, at the Founders Day luncheon Saturday.

The Chicago Chapter will also observe WIC Week with installation of officers and board members, Wednesday following a dinner at the Water Tower Hyatt House at 6:30 p.m.

Those wishing further information on WIC Week activities may call Gloria Meyerberg, 374-7515, or Adele Grindler, 389-1060.

The First September Signs Of Love

Linda Ann Walters

An Arlington Heights couple, Linda Ann Walters and Marc Lenhardt, are engaged and planned to be married next Jan. 7. The news comes from Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Walters, 701 S. Ridge Ave.

Marc is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Lenhardt, 316 S. Reuter Drive.

The couple both graduated in '68 from Arlington High School. Linda attended Northern Illinois University and works for Crosley and Associates, Inc., Arlington. Marc graduated this year from Bradley University, Peoria, and is with Drywall Interiors, Elk Grove.

Sandra Raue

Sandra Raue's engagement and approaching marriage to John Fieser of Naperville is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Raue, also of Naperville. John and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Fieser, are formerly of Hellen Road, Palatine.

The wedding is planned for Sept. 30.

Sandra is a Northern Illinois University graduate now working for Aetna Life & Casualty, Chicago. John graduated from Palatine High School in '67, attended Indiana University and works for the First National Bank in Chicago.

JoAnn Anfeldt

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Anfeldt of Wheeling announce their daughter JoAnn's engagement and approaching marriage to Harold C. Kuhl, son of the Clarence Kuhls of Buffalo Grove.

The date is set for Oct. 7.

Both JoAnn and Harold are Wheeling High School graduates, she in '70 and he in '69. JoAnn works for K-Mart in Wheeling and her fiance for Bernard Chevrolet, Libertyville.

Marilyn Yost

A fall 1973 wedding is planned by Marilyn Diane Yost and Martin James Murphy. She is the daughter of the Leonard W. Yosts of 910 S. Lancaster Ave., Mount Prospect, who are announcing the engagement. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew M. Murphy of Sauk Village, Ill.

Marilyn, a graduate of Forest View High School, is a senior at Northern Illinois University majoring in elementary education. Martin is also a senior at NIU majoring in management.

Four Generations Attend Dorothy DeAres Wedding

Four generations were present when Dorothy Elizabeth DeAre, daughter of former Palatine residents Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur DeAre, now of Addison, married Robert J. North Aug. 12 at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church in Addison.

Oldest guest present was the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Emma Wiese, 96, a resident of Arlington Heights since 1915. Youngest was the bridegroom's niece, 6-months-old Danielle North, daughter of his brother, Richard, who came from Alexandria, Va., to be his best man.

Dorothy was attended by her sister, Diana DeAre of Austin, Tex., as maid of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Karen North of Manhasset, N.Y., as bridesmaid.

Dorothy's brother, Donald DeAre of Addison, and James Bottrell of Decatur, Ill., friend of the groom, were the ushers.

FOLLOWING A reception at the Itasca Country Club, the newlyweds took a one-week honeymoon at Myrtle Beach, S.C., and now are living in Peoria, where Robert is in executive training with Sears Roebuck. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard North of Manhasset, Long Island, N.Y., he attended Post College in New York and earned his degree in business from Eureka (Ill.) College.

The bride, a graduate of Fremd High School, has a degree in business from Northern Illinois.

Her wedding gown was of imported silk organza over crystal peau de soie trimmed in re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced with pearls. She wore a veil of English illusion with matching lace trim. Her flowers were orchids combined with stephanotis.

The two attendants were dressed in Mediterranean blue chiffon over taffeta with multi-colored Venise lace trim. They carried white roses and small blue sprayed feather mums.

The bride's older brother, David, stationed with the Navy in the Azore Islands, received an unexpected leave and was able to attend the wedding with his wife, Carolyn. Also present was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Viola Schwolow of Arlington Heights.

Imagination Keys EGV House Walk

Members of Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club have become "weather watchers" this week, aiming to keep sunny skies and warm winds around until Sunday afternoon. That's the date for their fall fund-raiser, a house walk.

But rain or shine, the house walk will be on from 1 to 5 p.m. and includes ten homes in the Elk Grove area. Mrs. Steven Bailey and Mrs. Tom Bessey, co-chairmen, have chosen the homes for their most unusual decorating or remodeling.

Starting point will be the Elk Grove Municipal Building, at Wellington and Biesterfield, where each guest will be given a booklet detailing the ten homes and their locations. It is suggested that viewers drive from home to home, as they are scattered throughout the village.

IMAGINATION AND creativity have led the owners of four of the homes to build up, down and out to get additional living space. They have been structurally modified to meet the needs of growing families and changing life styles.

The sky was the limit for Bob and Dolores Balla who chose to go up with the addition of a second story for their ranch home. The second floor provides spacious dormitory bedrooms for their five sons, while allowing for additional family living and entertaining area on the first level.

When Tom and Judy McEnery moved up, the entire house went with them, providing space for a family room and bath underneath.

RICHARD AND Jean Wells kept their feet on the ground, that is until that ground was removed for the addition of a basement. Since completion, the basement has been transformed by Mr. Wells into a recreation and entertainment center.

A swimming pool in the backyard provides for outdoor fun.

The Leonard Kopinskis moved in all three directions. Their imagination led them up, down and out with an addition at the back of their ranch home. They now step up to their spacious family room or down to the basement play and work area.

Tickets to Sunday's house walk are available at $1.50 from Mrs. Richard Anderson, 956-0972, or Mrs. Richard Mayworm, 439-2853.

Proceeds will be used for the Juniors' charitable projects.

He Borrowed The Ice, Then Married The Girl

It wasn't the proverbial cup of sugar that Gerald F. Van Bladel borrowed from a neighbor, Linda S. Steinbraker, that caused their first meeting. It was while he was at a party at his brother Al's apartment in Arlington Heights that Jerry was sent next door to borrow some ice from Linda.

A romance blossomed for the Arlington couple, and they were married Aug. 12 in Arlington Heights Evangelical Free Church. Parents of the bride and groom are the Milton J. Steinbrakers of 1515 E. Central Road and the Anton Van Bladels of 108 N. Reuter.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Van Bladel

Linda's three brothers and Jerry's three brothers were all the groom's attendants. Dr. Thomas Van Bladel of Elk Grove was best man; the others were Bob, John and Tom Steinbraker and Bob and Al Van Bladel.

LINDA CHOSE her sister, Mrs. Diane Schmidtke of Palatine, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jan Morford, her college roommate from Grinnell, Iowa; Pat Van Bladel, Jerry's sister; and Cindy Stenholm, Arlington, a cousin of the bride.

The girls' gowns were made by the bride and bridesmaids in a pale lilac shade, and they carried mixed bouquets of pale yellow, pink, lilac and white daisies.

The 5-year-old flower girl, Susie Stanley of Kalamazoo, Mich., wore a dress to match the adults and carried her mixed daisies in a basket. Karl Schmidtke, 3, of Palatine was ring bearer. Susie is the bride's cousin, Karl the bride's nephew.

LINDA CAME DOWN the aisle by candlelight, wearing a white chiffon and lace gown and a mantilla veil that was also edged with lace scallops. She carried a large white orchid surrounded by white roses.

Immediately after the seven o'clock service there was a reception in the church hall for 300 guests.

The couple honeymooned in San Diego, Calif., for a week and are making their home in a Rolling Meadows apartment.

Linda teaches in Dist. 21, Wheeling, and Jerry is associated with Van Bladel Printing Co., Chicago. She is a graduate of Wheeling High School and Trinity College, Deerfield. Jerry graduated from Arlington High and served in the navy during 1966-70.

Janice Marbet, Steven Kuh Wed In Palatine Ceremony

It's back to school for a recent bridegroom, Steven M. Kuh of Palatine, who has taken his bride of Aug. 12 to live on the Iowa State University campus in Ames.

She is the former Janice Mary Marbet, also of Palatine, who graduated this past spring from Iowa State.

The couple exchanged vows and rings in the First United Methodist Church of Palatine in a 6:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Marbet, 335 N. Schiller, chose an Empire gown of white organza trimmed with Alencon lace. Styled with a high neck, Camelot sleeves and chapel train, it was embroidered with lace appliques on the A-line silhouette. A lace leaf headpiece held Janice's short bouffant veil, and her bouquet was a cascade of miniature white roses, baby's breath and greens.

MRS. CAROL A. NERO, Des Plaines, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, while the groom's sisters, Barbara and Lisa Kuh, were bridesmaids along with Roxanne Thomas and Sheryl Molway, both of Palatine.

The girls wore two-toned gowns designed with a yellow chiffon bodice and a skirt in a wallpaper print of green, white and yellow. They carried white wicker baskets filled with yellow mums, daisies, baby's breath and greens.

STEVEN IS the son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Kuh, 19 W. Hellen Road. His friend, Larry Anderson of Palatine, was best man. Groomsmen included Gil Nero, Des Plaines, and three of the groom's Kappa Sigma fraternity brothers: Mark Miller, Ed Marik and Bryce Poynter, all of Iowa.

The wedding guests were seated by two other fraternity brothers, John Thompson and Ed Jones, the latter also serving as soloist for the candlelight service.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven M. Kuh

The newlyweds greeted 170 guests at a dinner reception that evening at Arlington Park Towers. They honeymooned at a resort in the Ozarks and then left for Ames, Iowa, to live in the University Village.

Janice is a graduate of Palatine High School and had two years at Adrian College in Michigan before transferring to Iowa State. Her husband is a graduate of Fremd High.

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

This is being written from a hospital room. I've just been laid up with a "long-leg" cast, the result of a grocery spill that fractured an ankle. After my tumble over an empty, untended dolly in the aisle, other customers berated the manager for maintaining a "daily menace."

A nice man (he was distraught), he kept repeating that he had warned his "boys" over and over not to leave their dollies in the aisles and said he didn't know what to do about it. I accept the fault for not being alertly on guard, but it is also true that millions of us dependent on these stores are frequently aware of the lack of nominal policing for safety hazards.

It would be absurd to insist on perfection, but one thing keeps haunting me. There was a day when a manager's frown brought quick action by employes. Have things become so permissive that any directive can be ignored these days without second thought?

Dear Dorothy: The rain came through a partly opened window and our shellacked floor has several white spots on it. I vaguely remember some quick remedy but it eludes me. Would you happen to know? — Felicia Meredith.

It's a simple remedy: Wipe with a cloth dipped in denatured alcohol, then dry quickly with a dry cloth.

Dear Dorothy: Two married friends found a delightful home but one that created a problem for them. The two bedrooms were side by side. He is a professional musician and she an artist and the practicing he has to do was tough on her. Someone suggested putting cork panels on both sides of the common wall separating the two rooms. It worked. Peace. He can practice all he wants and she can work in quiet. — Deborah Browning.

Politics Rears In The Pulpit

We regret to see that efforts to obtain public aid for private schools have moved into the pulpit. In more than one area church, petitions supporting a federal tax credit for parents of children attending private schools were collected in the vestibule of the church following Sunday services.

This was done after a letter from U.S. Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, sponsor of the plan, was printed in the church bulletin and the pastor urged signing of the petitions from the pulpit.

Pucinski's bill, which has the support of U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Arkansas, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, would provide tax credits of up to $200 for tuition for each child in a parochial school.

While we have opposed the principle of diverting public taxes to the aid of private schools, that is not the issue raised by the Pucinski letter to the churches.

We continue to believe that private schools, although in financial difficulties, should not receive public money, especially when public schools, which are the responsibility of the state, are also in dire need of better financing.

Whether that belief prevails in Congress, however, we do not believe that the place to debate the issue or to campaign for it is in the churches.

Certainly, members of any congregation and individual clergymen have every right as citizens to argue their viewpoint and to petition their elected officials for or against "parochiaid" or any other issue.

In a recent Supreme Court ruling, parochiaid plans in two states were struck down because the court said they constituted "excessive entanglement" of the state in affairs of the church.

We believe the churches should also avoid excessive entanglement in affairs of the state.

We do not presume to advise pastors as to what topics are proper subject matter for guidance of their parishioners.

However, promotion of specific legislation in connection with regular services raises other questions. If it is proper to lobby from the pulpit for parochiaid legislation, why would it not be proper to circulate petitions in church on abortion laws? Or drugs? Or handguns?

And if promotion of legislation is to be considered a proper function of Sunday worship services, why should not the services also be used to promote candidates for election?

'Man Must Be True To Himself'

Holy Days Time For Contemplation

by DAVID HENDIN

When I recently received my traditional assignment of writing an article about Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, and Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, I drew a blank.

"What can I write about that is a bit different?" I thought.

Last year I wrote about my own holiday experiences in Israel.

The year before I wrote a historical article.

What to do this year?

I phoned my father long distance and asked for a few ideas. He had none, but promised to think about it and phone me the next day if he thought of anything. He did.

Dad had mulled over the possibilities and then he took my question home to the rest of the family that night at dinner.

My youngest brother, 16, said that he didn't feel the holidays were worthwhile. "If you're only going to recognize one time of the year to be a good person, then it's kind of a waste," he said.

Indeed, this could well be the attitude of many idealistic young Jews throughout the nation. They see what they believe to be the hypocrisy of organized religion — and the problem is not only in Judaism, but other religions as well. Are these views news?

No. The Biblical Prophets themselves railed against observance without the real practice of religion — being a good human being.

At my family's discussion, my father suggested that Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur be taken as days of moral inventory to see what kind of a person one had been for the past year and how he could improve himself. My brother agreed.

And my father, who is a student of Judaism as well as other religions, added: "Probably the most important thing about these holidays is that one does not ask for the forgiveness of God for sins the man has committed against other men. He can only ask for forgiveness for himself for sins against God.

"It is very difficult to ask forgiveness from another person. But is very easy to ask forgiveness from God. If a person uses the week between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur as a guide for the rest of the year, if not for your whole life, it would be a good thing."

For Jewish people, then, the holiday of Rosh Hashanah is the time to make amends to fellow men, for the relationships between members of the human race are more important than any other relationships that can exist.

God can forgive sins against himself, but most sins are not of this nature. Most sins are among men, or man against himself, or man against his environment.

"Man must know," said my father, "that by overeating or overdrinking or polluting the atmosphere he is only harming himself."

And then Dad added: "Man can't be true to his God — any God — if he is not true to himself, his fellow men and his environment."

Come to think of it, many sage persons throughout history have conveyed that same thought in slightly different words. Could my father be a sage man, too? Could yours? Perhaps that is something else to think about this year during the High Holy Days.

The Fence Post

Rips Teacher Evaluation

The third of a series of education articles by Betsy Brooker appeared in the August 23 issue of the Herald and dealt with a topic that should be brought to the light of public scrutiny. The difficulties of evaluating teachers have been repeated by school administrators for many years and teachers reinforce this myth in a manner that perpetuates a viewpoint as irrelevant and invalid as the psuedo science of alchemy.

What comes through loud and clear is that school people do not like to be evaluated and it appears they have entered into an informal, mutually beneficial, conspiracy to deceive the public and convince themselves that it can't be done. Their comments reflect nothing more than an effort to rationalize ineptness in this facet of their professional skills and training. The majority of school administrators avoid anything that even comes close to rigorous evaluation of staff with greater zeal than they would a plague. They give a great deal of lip service to the process but not very much effort.

The disheartening picture painted by the educators interviewed is difficult for me to accept as a taxpayer in both districts 21 and 214. I want more from my tax dollar and the surest way for this to happen is to improve the accountability of schools to their public. It just so happens that the evaluation of teachers is an important, no, the most important, cog in the process.

If, as we all say, teachers are the key to good education, then it is an absolute imperative they be evaluated as well as contemporary knowledge and technology allow. More money can be wasted by a school district with 25-40 per cent of their teachers being borderline and ineffectual (but nice!) members of their staff than by all the cost accounting, eliminating of program "frills," or increases in class size put together.

Teachers' salaries make up 85-90 per cent of most district's budgets, and if you expect real economies to be effected, the most logical place to look is in the area of greatest expenditure — teachers' salaries. I would rather pay good teachers more money than pay "average" salaries to the mediocre. If there is one thing that is a frill in education it is carrying a lot deadwood on the teaching staff.

Aside from the financial aspect of the situation, when one considers the irreparable educational damage done by many of the virtual incompetents who occupy a classroom, it is inestimable. I want the best for my children. I have paid for it, gladly, but I want true value for it.

I'm sick of the mentality of mediocrity that pervades the unionization process of the teaching ranks. And this frame of reference will only tend to be perpetuated by schools as long as they don't get down to the real issue of accountability . . . accountable to the taxpayer and to their own professional standards that sit rotting on a shelf somewhere.

When did you last hear of a teacher's organization purging itself of an incompetent? Hardly! What happens is that when some administrator gets the nerve to separate one of these borderline people, the whole organization galvanizes against this intrusion into their "professional rights" (but who is caring about the kids?) forgetting that their code of ethics places this responsibility on their shoulders. When the IEA and the AFT concern themselves with more than their self-serving vested interests they will, perhaps, be on the way toward real professionalism.

I guess I'm a malcontent, but I didn't like what I read in that article at all. What really frustrates me is the relative ignorance of the educators whose views were expressed regarding the current status of the process of evaluating teachers in our schools. I happen to be aware of the fact that there are several systems of evaluating teachers that alleviate every one of their concerns. They are not totally infallible but they are far better than that which was described in the article!

It is not the deep dark mystery they have made it seem. There have been over 2,000 research studies done on the topic since the turn of the century with about 40 added each year. Articles about evaluation and supervision are published in the professional journals every month of every year, or close to it. It's just that their views seem to underscore the truth of the viewpoint many hold (within the profession, too) that the schools are about 50 years behind in most things, so maybe it is too much to expect that our schools would be any different! What was revealed in their views is that our schools have not yet left the Dark Ages of Pedagogy — and our kids suffer for it.

Learning By 'Sniffies'

Having the sniffles is usually a good reason to keep a child out of school. Having "Sniffies," however, may now make a child enthusiastic about going to school, especially if he or she is a kindergartener or first-grader.

A "Sniffie" is a picture which a child scratches and sniffs. Scratching releases the odor — of a rose or an orange, etc. At the same time he learns the odor and shape of an object, the child learns letters of its name.

It's part of a new multisensory approach to learning the alphabet called "Beginning to Read, Write and Listen," developed by a young teacher, Pleasant R. Rowland, in conjunction with Boston Educational Research Co. and currently being marketed around the country by Lippincott.

In her own experience, Miss Rowland found that many youngsters are "turned off" from reading at an early age because the materials they use in school are uninteresting and disappointing compared to more stimulating activities outside of school.

The result is that many children lack a thorough understanding of the alphabet, the most basic element of our written language.

In addition to "Sniffies," to smell, the "Beginning" package includes glittery letters to touch, magic slates to write on, three-dimensional pop-outs to construct, sounds on cassettes and projects to share with parents.

The idea of the multisensory approach is to capture the entire imagination and interest of a child at the very beginning of his formal education, where it counts most.

An Earthquake To Top Them All

What was the worst earthquake ever to hit the United States?

Not the San Francisco jolt of 1906. It was the New Madrid ,Ill., earthquake of 1811 — at least, according to a Ph.D. study by a Southern Illinois University student, Wayne Viitanen, who sifted through eyewitness accounts and records in four states.

At the Mississippi port of New Madrid, a 30-foot wave swamped barges, flatboats and keelboats. The river hissed, boiled and turned a muddy red. Islands disappeared. Banks crumbled. At places, the mighty Mississippi itself flowed backwards. Much land was ruined for cultivation for years to come.

Yet though every building within 50,000 square miles of New Madrid was destroyed and shocks were reported as far away as Boston, fewer than 100 settlers and Indians died in the sparsely inhabited region.

Among other phenomena was an amazing religious revival, supported by the belief that the quake was a sign of God's displeasure. Preachers, says Viitanen, "reaped a harvest of souls." Many so-called "Earthquake Christians," alas, were to slide back into sin once the ground settled down.

You don't hardly see earthquakes like that any more.

Newcomers Are Discouraged

We bought in Arlington Heights because we thought this community was well planned. Your parks, stores, theaters, housing developments all seemed to be well laid out. We chose Surrey Ridge because we wanted a newer home in particular.

How discouraged we are becoming! Nowhere else do I see so many atrocious, disasterous, calamities befall one subdivision! High-rises smack dab in the middle of single dwelling homes. With no apparent consideration to the existing overburdened water, sewage and community facilities!

Then the planning of a large discount house, facing not a business street, like the present ones in the area, but residential streets, making them into busy thoroughfares with stop and go lights!

Surrey Ridge is definitely perplexed by all this change. I've signed petitions and gone to meetings in hopes that these calamities will not occur.

I'm wondering (since this is my first involvement in community affairs) if any of our hard work is going to pay off. I hope so. When Arlington Heights was originally planned, future stores, offices, homes and apartments must have been placed so they gratify the neighborhoods in which they are located instead of the hodge podge that is now being proposed. Lets make Arlington Heights the well designed area it deserves to be!

Word-A-Day

Business Today

by JOHN WILLIAMS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The populist theme that "big business is bad and the bigger it gets the badder it gets" recently has evoked strong rebuttal from the other side. Big business apparently has decided to come out of the closet and fight back.

Recent targets of the corporate rebuttal are political candidates who charge that business is a beneficiary of rather than a heavy contributor to taxation.

Bethlehem Steel Corp. has begun to "mobilize" what its chairman, Stewart S. Cort, calls "truth squads."

Their job, according to Cort, will be to refute "the careless rhetoric and accusation that are being thrown around these days — their main target being the business community."

Cort criticized remarks he attributed to an unnamed political aspirant who allegedly said, "The time has come for a tax system that says to big business, 'you must pay your fair share.' "

CORT SAYS, "My own company has been tagged wth this kind of tax nonsense despite the fact that over the last 10 years our taxes have averaged $37 million a year more than our net income. Our total tax bill added up to nearly $200 million last year, $155 million in 1970 and more than $1.7 billion for the 10 years from 1962 through 1971."

Another leading businessman who has taken on critics of business is Harold S. Geneen, chairman of the giant International Telephone & Telegraph.

ITT has come under strong pressure from the government with regard to its many holdings and has been forced to divest some of its holdings because of alleged antitrust violations.

Says Geneen, "Ironically enough, the very antitrust laws which were created to promote competition are, in this manner, used to restrict competition. Used in this manner they will prevent the fullest, most efficient use of our national resources in domestic and world markets."

MONOPOLIES, according to consumer advocate Ralph Nader, bilk the American consumer out of $48 to $60 billion yearly in lost goods and services.

But Henry G. Manne, professor of law at the University of Rochester and an economist, says Nader's position on that is invalid. "I don't think there are many private monopolies in this country," Manne told UPI, "but I think there are a lot of government-supported monopolies." He cited socialized medicine and the defense industry as examples.

Perhaps the main reason corporations have begun voicing opposition to populist criticism was summed up by ITT's Geneen when he said:

"The important threat again is a willingness to attack business without real facts . . . if business can be attacked . . . on the basis of supposed harmful social effects, then we have a personal interpretation, not enforcement by law. We have taken, then, the first serious step toward complete socialization of this free enterprise system that has served us this long, so well."

Nearing 65? Sign Up Early For Medicare

by CARLTON SMITH

If you or anyone of your acquaintance is nearing 65, remember you risk losing valuable protection by failure to sign up early for Medicare.

To be covered under the federal program, an individual can't wait until he or she is 65, but must enroll well before that birthday, the Health Insurance Institute cautions.

It's possible to enroll as soon as you're within three months of your 65th birthday. It's mandatory to enroll some time within the next two months. If you show up to enroll later than one month prior to your birthday, you've waited too long.

The individual who fails to enroll by that time will have lost at least one month's protection and will have to foot the bills for any medical or hospital care that's needed during this gap period.

THERE'S further penalty for those who haven't signed up within three months after the 65th birthday. They may not be able to enroll for as long as one year. In addition to the lost protection there's a good chance that premiums will be higher.

While Medicare and Medicaid are now covering around 60 per cent of the cost of hospital care and physicians' charges for the 65-and-over, there's evidence in recent figures from the Social Security Administration that out-of-pocket expenses are still a substantial item — one that has to be taken into account in planning retirement finances.

In fiscal 11971, says the SSA, the average medical bill for a person 65 or older was $861. That was more than six times as much as the medical expenses of the under-19 youth group ($140), and 2½ times as much as was spent by those between 19 and 64 ($323).

BEFORE passage of the Medicare and Medicaid laws in 1966 older people were out-of-pocket for about half their medical expenses. In 1971, reimbursements by federal programs and private insurance cut their out-of-pocket share to about one-fourth. Yet, because of escalating medical costs, the dollar total was nearly the same — $234 in 1966, $225 in 1971.

Thus the typical retired couple would seem to be spending $450 a year, out of pocket, to pay for health care. The average payment to a retired couple will be about $271, after the 20 per cent increase in September, according to the SSA.

Embezzler Confesses— Gets Tax Break

Honesty is the best policy, a confessed embezzler has learned from a recent Tax Court decision.

The ruling held that the embezzler was not required to pay income tax on funds which he had admittedly embezzled and already spent. The reason — in the same year that he embezzled the funds he repented, signed a confession of judgment for the amount he had taken, and agreed to reimburse his victim, Commerce Clearing House, reports.

The irony of the decision, CCH reports, is that the court apparently felt compeled to legitimize the crime by finding that the signing of a confession of judgment transforms "embezzlement" into an ordinary "debt transaction" as far as income tax liability is concerned. If he had not pursued this course of action, the repentant embezzler would have been liable for income tax on the funds he had stolen.

CCH notes that this case is a further step in the direction of obliterating the difference in the treatment of legally vs. illegally obtained funds for taxation purposes.

In addition to embezzled funds, gains derived from conducting an illegal business or from other illegal transactions are taxable as income, CCH points out.

Among transactions and businesses to which this rule has been applied are illegal liquor sales, protection payments, graft to political leaders, premiums for unlawful insurance policies, black market gains, sweepstakes winnings, racetrack bookmaking, swindler's proceeds, money received by labor officials for noninterference, extortion money, ransom to kidnappers, proceeds from sales of stolen property, gambling and kickbacks.

U. S. Foreign Trade Deficit Still Climbing: Newsletter

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago recently reported on the U.S. trade deficit and U.S. imports of steel in its most recent International Newsletter.

The U.S. foreign trade deficit continued to build in July, as imports exceeded exports by $542 million, the smallest deficit since January. The average monthly trade deficit for the first seven months of 1972 was $555 million. Record-high imports, at an annual rate of $54.7 billion, were 1.5 per cent above the June figure and 20.3 per cent above July 1971.

Exports were at the third highest level on record during July — at an annual rate of $48.2 billion they were 3.1 per cent above June, and 15.2 per cent over July 1971.

EXPORTS DURING January-July were 7 per cent above the same period a year ago. Imports during the same period were 19.2 per cent ahead of the first seven months of 1971. The trade deficit for the first seven months of 1972 was $3.9 billion, $1.8 billion greater than the total deficit in 1971.

The rise in imports during this year has been paced by continued rapid advances in the dollar value of consumer goods, mainly automobiles, industrial supplies such as petroleum, capital goods such as machinery, and food products. While automobile imports from Japan and Europe have leveled off since last year, their dollar value continues to increase over a year ago because of the dollar devaluation and a move to more expensive models. Auto imports from Canada continue strong because of booming U.S.-type auto sales. Gains in exports were especially concentrated in capital goods and agricultural products.

U.S. IMPORTS of steel during the first half of 1972 declined from a year ago. The "voluntary" restriction on exports to the United States that was agreed to by steel producers in Japan, Britain, and the European Common Market is credited by U.S. steel industry sources as having been a major factor. Another factor that affected the decline was the stockpiling that occurred during the first half of last year in anticipation of a domestic steel strike.

Import tonnage from Japan decreased over 20 per cent from a year ago, and tonnage from Britain and the Common Market was down more than 26 per cent. In addition, the dollar value of steel imports was down 7 per cent for Japan, and 13 per cent for Britain and the Common Market.

Foreign steel exporters that are parties to the "voluntary" restrictions agreed to hold steel shipments to the United States to a 2.5 per cent annual growth rate through 1974. This means they may ship nearly 13.2 million tons to the United States during 1972. During the first six months, 44 per cent of the allowable total, 5.8 million tons, entered the United States.

The Doctor Says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Your articles are most helpful and informative. One in particular stressed getting adequate medical care for arthritis. Dr. Lamb, you have no idea how difficult that is. Too many doctors feel that it is just one of those chronic problems and you have to make the best of it. Even the state medical school can be a problem. I was told nothing could be done for me and eventually I would be paralyzed. One arm and hand were almost paralyzed at that time. X-rays show that I also have arthritis in the spine and neck and the hips are also affected.

I do special typing for a psychiatrist and finally told him I would not be able to continue to, even at a reduced speed because of my arthritis. He sent me to physical therapy and it has revolutionized my life. Of course I still have trouble, but it has helped a great deal. So, doctor, it's all in the "luck" one has in getting the right doctor. In large areas, there are specialists who concern themselves only with arthritis, but in most of our small towns our busy doctors just don't have time to devote to us arthritics.

Dear Reader — Yes, I do know how difficult it is.

There is a lot that can be done for arthritis and much of it has to be directed toward learning proper living habits. Physiotherapy, which includes proper exercises, is an important part of the treatment in keeping full use of the body. It's true that in many small towns doctors just don't have the time to deal with such complex, time consuming problems. Also a lot of equipment is expensive and support treatment, such as physiotherapy, isn't always available either. Some readers have told me I'm unreasonable in telling them they should go to a center or location where a rheumatologist is located. Considering the importance of arthritis, I don't think so. The person with rheumatoid arthritis, characterized by swelling, particularly needs help.

The Arthritis Foundation was formed to try to help resolve some of the problems of the type your letter describes. You live near Denver and a chapter of the Arthritis Foundation is located there. You could address your letter to the Rocky Mountain Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, Denver, Colo. 80204. In large cities patients can sometimes find the state or regional chapter of the Arthritis Foundation listed in the telephone book.

To find the nearest rheumatologist (specialist in arthritis) you can write to the national headquarters office, Arthritis Foundation, 1212 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036. They can direct you to the rheumatologist nearest to you.

In small communities a good way to do this is to have your family doctor refer you to the rheumatologist, and even though it may be 40 or 50 miles away, a trip once or twice a year depending on your health status is a good investment.

The rheumatologist can act as a consultant to your family doctor and can help you gain access to the different kinds of treatment you might need. I don't think anyone should ignore this problem. To do so is to risk serious limitation and disability later.

'Bring 'Em On' Says Vikes As Harrier Season Nears

by LARRY EVERHART
Cross Country Editor

Cross country for years has been the middle name of Fremd's athletic program, but never has the Viking harrier outlook been brighter than now.

So loaded is Fremd with quality and depth of material that opponents might already be shuddering a the thought of contesting veteran coach Ron Menely's squad — which can hardly wait to get started.

The Vikes' foot troops have spent months preparing for the season that gets underway this Thursday on the road against Woodstock and McHenry. First home meet will be Monday against a fine Palatine squad and Rolling Meadows. Fremd's home course again will be the Union 76 Oil Co. grounds at Route 58 and Meacham Rd.

"We're ready . . . bring 'em on," says Menely in enthusiastically summing up the feeling on this team.

"Our attitude and conditioning has been fantastic. We've never been more ready physically. We're right where we want to be at this point. This team has a real good base and more depth than we've ever had at Fremd."

That's saying something at a school which in only six years of existence has tucked away a championship, runnerup honor and several other high finishes in state final competition. Last year the Vikings were eighth in Illinois and despite a fine team failed to win the Mid-Suburban League title for the first time since it began running varsity meets.

Thus, tradition as always is an important spur at Fremd, though Menely says, "We're more free-wheeling and loose this year. We don't feel pressure about having to defend a title or prove something like last year."

Chances are, tough, they'll prove plenty. Menely predicted at the close of last season that this 1972 team would have the potential to again take the state's top honors, and that feeling has only been reinforced over the past summer.

"Our top kids ran about 1400 miles apiece for the summer and we've got at least 20 who went 1000 miles," says Menely. "Some of them averaged 23½ miles apiece over a 10-day period. And we haven't had any injuries."

Harriers at many other schools — even with good teams — do little running in the summer months and even half the amount the Vikings did is considered a lot.

There also is exceptional balance at Fremd with no particular order for the present top seven varsity boys. Co-captains are seniors Steve Inbody and Jamie Olson and the other senior is Jeff Stitt. Juniors include Ken Geheb, John Miller, Mike Rohrer and Chuck Ruppenthal.

Inbody and Olson were among the best varsity regulars in the MSL last year and the others did well on lower levels. Ruppenthal was the league's individual soph champ.

On top of this the sophs and frosh are also loaded this year, making Fremd almost forbidding for the future. The freshmen even won a national contest based on official time trials.

As Menely says, "Other coaches have told me they consider our sophomores best in the state. Four of them are good enough for the varsity right now but we're going to keep them together."

This crack group includes Jim Galis, Wilson Fieldhouse, Clay Pittenger, Eric Inbody and Paul Kinyon.

Getting back to the varsity, Menely says, "Our No. 1 man is a minute and a half faster than last year at this time and the rest are way ahead too. We will have a much closer spread."

He considers other top teams in the state, based on times, to be Centralia (which was second last year and graduated just one runner), Maine East, Riverside-Brookfield and York. He feels the biggest threats to the Vikes in the MSL will be Hersey and Palatine.

A regular pattern has been forming in state harrier final running. Fremd and York have both been finishing first, second and eighth in that order for the past few years. Last year York was first and Fremd eighth. If the pattern holds true, this is the Vikings' year for the crown again.

Even omens — not to mention everything else — seem in favor of the Fremd cross country team this year.

Bud Wilkinson's College Preview

Nebraska Should Repeat As No. 1

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma team from 1947 to 1963 won 145 games, including a still-record 47-game winning streak, tied four and lost 29 for one of college football's outstanding coaching performances. His 1955-56 Sooners were the last team to win consecutive national championships. He is now a sportscaster on the ABC-TV college football Game of the Week.

by BUD WILKINSON

As a former coach, I always preferred to be named Number 1 at the end of the season and not before. So, with this in mind, I have no intention of picking the best 1972 college football team in early fall.

Nebraska, however, has an excellent chance of winning its third straight national title, a feat no college team has ever accomplished. The pressure will be on Nebraska as every opponent will do its best to end the Cornhuskers' long winning streak.

I was fortunate to win successive national titles at Oklahoma in 1955 and 1956, and I realize the tremendous pressure facing the coaching staff and team.

There are several advantages Nebraska will have as the season begins. And the biggest one is pride. They know they can win. They have the winning attitude which is so important. If they can survive an early upset, the chances are good for another perfect season. Nebraska's opponents will hit hard in every game and this pressure will enable Nebraska to become accustomed to this type of play.

Several key players are gone from the Nebraska squad of last year, including quarterback Jerry Tagge, one of those rare individuals whose greatest attributes don't show on a computer or on the program roster. Leadership is always important but if this asset happens to be in a quarterback, then the job of coaching is so much easier.

Nebraska's toughest competition could come within the conference. Oklahoma and Colorado. The former will be played at home; the latter will be met on the road.

Oklahoma has the distinct disadvantage of playing both Nebraska and Colorado on the road. Colorado plays both of its toughest games at home, a definite asset, as any coach will admit.

Nebraska will have many challenges for the national crown. Washington and USC will be the teams to beat on the West Coast. The Texas-Arkansas game on Oct. 21 at Austin should decide the Southwest Conference title although Texas A&M will be the greatly improved.

The Big Ten should have one of its best conference races in recent years with Michigan, Ohio State and Purdue the leading contenders going into the season, though Illinois and Michigan State are also quite capable of winning the crown.

The Southeastern Conference, like the Big Ten, will have a tremendous race with five teams — LSU, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee — all having the coaching and personnel to win.

One of the big surprise teams of the 1972 season could be Maryland in the Atlantic Coast Conference, although North Carolina and Clemson are the only favorites.

Penn State is the logical choice in the East and should have no trouble in winning the Lambert Trophy for the fifth time in six years.

Many outstanding players return this fall but if I had to pick one player above the rest, it would be Rich Glover, Nebraska's middle guard. He is the best player I have ever seen at this position. His play last season against Colorado and Olahoma was just superb. In my six years working for ABC, I can't recall showing as many replays of any lineman as much as we did last year of Glover.

Some of the outstanding players include running backs Greg Pruitt of Oklahoma, Woody Green of Arizona State, Charlie Davis of Colorado, and Jim Poulos of Georgia, wide receiver Johnny Rodgers of Nebraska, maybe the most exciting player in the country, and quarterbacks Joe Ferguson of Arkansas, Gary Huff of Florida State and Sonny Sixkiller of Washington.

These players will cause the cheers because they are offensive threats. Yet, some super defensive players return, including defensive backs Brad Van Pelt of Michigan State, Jackie Wallace of Arizona and Joe Blahak of Nebraska, and linebacker Randy Gradishar of Ohio State and linemen Bud Mangrum of Colorado and Bruce Bannon of Penn State.

College football's biggest asset is that the game is always changing. New offenses. New defenses. And college coaches are more apt to gamble.

In 1968, Darrell Royal was quite discouraged about the Wishbone offense after he saw his team lose to Texas Tech. He began to have doubts but stuck with the offense and didn't see his team lose until the 1971 Cotton Bowl.

Nobody can predict what will happen this fall across the nation. Yet, one fact is certain. Something different will occur. It always does in college football.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

JOHNNY RODGERS of Nebraska, left, and Greg Pruitt of Oklahoma should be among college fooball's most exciting players again this season.

Donahue Waits For 'Break' As Reliever

by JACK DOANE
The Sporting News

MONTGOMERY, Ala. —The Preacher is wondering if he'll be able to follow in the Deacon's footsteps to the major leagues.

The Preacher is little Jerry Donahue, relief specialist de luxe for the past three years for the Southern League's Montgomery Rebels.

The Deacon is Jerry's father, John Donahue, who pitched briefly for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1943 and '44.

A fast ball pitcher at St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights, Ill. ("My father never let me throw a curve ball"), Jerry was signed by the Cubs and then released after less than a full season at Quincy (Midwest) in 1968.

Picked up by Detroit, Donahue began a transformation under the tutelage of minor league pitching coach John Grodzicki. He learned to throw a curve and a slider. He also learned not to try to overpower the hitters or to overstride. Control became his asset.

In his first season in the Tiger chain, Donahue was 10-0 at Rocky Mount (Carolina). His earned-run average was 1.89 in 47 games, all but two of them relief appearances.

Preacher has been strictly a short relief man in his three years at Montgomery. He was 5-3 and 1.65 in 37 relief jobs in 1970. Last year his record was 5-2 and the ERA a microscopic 0.76 in 26 games.

He fizzled in a trial at Toledo (International), but there were extenuating circumstances. Jerry's wife was having complications from a pregnancy and keeping his mind on baseball wasn't easy.

Donahue returned to Montgomery after a month at Toledo and finished his excellent year. He went nine games before giving up an earned run and allowed only one in 32 innings spread over 17 appearances.

A promotion at the start of 1972 seemed inevitable after two superb seasons in Class AA. It wasn't to be. After allowing only two hits in nine spring exhibition innings with the Toledo squad, Donahue was assigned to Montgomery once again.

He asked Detroit farm director Walter

Jerry Donahue

(Hoot) Evers about it. "He told me I just needed a break," Donahue said. "I didn't think it was a very satisfying answer."

So the 23-year-old righthander figured he needed a new approach.

"I learned statistics weren't going to help me, so I figured I had better show somebody an arm," he said.

However, Donahue's statistics this season again were outstanding. His record was 7-4 in 42 appearances and his earned-run average of 2.02 was one of the best in the league. As a reliever, he had not pitched enough, only 58 innings, to have his name appear in the list of league leaders.

For a time, Jerry's control bothered him, but Grodzicki came to check on Montgomery's pitchers and immediately spotted a flaw.

"I guess I was trying to show somebody an arm too much," Jerry said with a grin, "I was overstriding and not bringing my arm through fast enough. I think Grodzicki has me straightened out again. I hope so.

"He wants me to start throwing the curve again. I haven't been using anything but the fast fall and slider, and he thinks it will help me to have another pitch."

If the Preacher (he got the nickname from former teammate Paul Jata because of his mild-mannered ways and scholarly appearance) perfects another pitch, there won't be anything that can keep him from advancing to a higher classification next year. At least he hopes so.

Conant Shows CC Promise

by LARRY EVERHART
Cross Country Editor

Usually, any team with only one letterman returning from the previous season is in for a dropoff in fortunes.

But even though Conant has only one varsity cross country letter winner, their 1972 harrier situation looks considerably more promising than '71.

For one thing, the Cougars have only one way to go after suffering through their worst season last year with virtually no experience. (They were 11th overall in a 12-team league and had no individuals near the top in the conference meet).

For another, Conant was a strong second in the sophomore standings, being topped only by powerful Fremd, and that fine soph group is now primed for varsity competition.

Still another reason for optimism is that the squad is in fine condition. "They did a lot of running over the summer," reports head coach Jack Ary. "We had three or four boys who ran 800 miles apiece and the rest went at least 400."

Bob Everly is the No. 1 runner at this juncture and Todd Waldron is the only letterman. Other top runners include Rick Jensen, John Bond, Dan Wolfgram, Ron Golubski, Steve Wattron, Dave Mansolf, Dan Schneider and Kent McDill.

CONANT CROSS COUNTRY
1972 SCHEDULE

Tues., Sept. 12 — Maine South, Morton East (A), 4:30
Sat., Sept. 16 — Maine West Center Invitational, 10:00
Mon., Sept. 18 — Arlington, Glenbard N. (A), 4:30
Thurs., Sept. 21 — Hersey, Rolling Meadows (A), 4:30
Sat., Sept. 23 — Forest City Invitational at Rockford, 10:30
Tues., Sept. 26 — Forest View, Wheeling (H), 4:30
Thurs., Sept. 28 — Palatine, Elk Grove (H), 4:30
Sat., Sept. 30 — Pekin Invitational, 10:15
Tues., Oct. 3 — Prospect (H), 4:30
Tues., Oct. 10 — Fremd, Maine West (H), 4:30
Sat., Oct. 14 — Libertyville Invitational, 9:45
Tues., Oct. 17 — Schaumburg, Lake Park (A), 4:30
Sat., Oct. 21 — Conference meet at Fremd
Tues., Oct. 24 — District meet
Sat., Oct. 28 — Sectional meet
Sat., Nov. 4 — State meet
Home course — Union 76 Oil Co. grounds, Route 58 & Meacham Rd.

If last year's sophomore results mean anything, this young group could go places — and not just to the finish line. In the soph conference meet Jensen was fifth, Bond sixth, Everly 16th, Mansolf 17th, Wolfgram 20th and McDill 22nd. Those accomplishments could mean that balance will be good.

Joe Mortimer is a new assistant coach in the Conant cross country program. He hails from Oregon, Ill. and will be the head track coach in the spring.

The season gets underway at Maine South this Tuesday at 4:30 with Morton East also included in the triangular. The following Saturday, Conant will be in the big Maine West Center Invitational before the MSL season opens. There are 15 dates on the varsity schedule including four invitationals and mostly triangulars.

Illinois Faces Demanding Schedule

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Bob Blackman's second Illinois football team should be far more capable of playing one of the nation's toughest schedules than his first which faced 10 of the same 11 opponents and lost six games before running up five victories.

"We think we're improved and more experienced," Blackman said, "so we're hopeful for a better first part of the season.

"I think somebody picked us 16th in the nation and all of our first six opponents are picked above us. There's no way we're going to be 16th if we lose our first six."

Last year the Illini lost to Michigan State, North Carolina, Southern California, Washington, Ohio State and Michigan and this year face five of them again, substituting Penn State for Carolina. But Blackman thought his current crew would be a far greater threat.

For one thing, this year he's satisfied with Mike Wells at quarterback.

"Mike wasn't completely familiar with the offense last year and he didn't handle it well early in the season. Then he had a very inexperienced offensive line in front of him. I definitely felt he was the best in the Big Ten the last half of the season, and I'm hoping we take up where we left off."

The Illini have experience at every offensive line position with center Larry McCarren tabbed as a hope for All American and Garvin Roberson at split end likely to be one of the Big Ten's best pass receivers.

Fullback Mike Navarro and halfback George Uremovich were solid runners in the final games last year and should be threats from the start of this season.

Defensively, despite the loss of Willie Lee and Willie Osley, the Illini could be tough, too, with Tab Bennett at end, an All America contender and a team leader.

Dave Wright at tackle and linebackers John Wiza, Octavus Morgan and Larry Allen should be solid.

The defensive backfield could be a problem. "Last year it was one of our strong points," Blackman said. "The previous year we were last in the conference in pass defense and last year we were first.

"I thought we'd have our whole secondary back, and now we've lost one third of it in Osley. Larry Huisinga will be back at safety and John Graham at halfback, and probably sopomore Bob Johnson will take the other spot."

Blackman believes he has "a good group back," but said he must depend on untried men in some positions. Mike Waller at defensive tackle and Johnson look like the best of a good crop of sophomores who could furnish even more help as the season goes along.

Thursday Golf Winners Named

The Thursday Morning Ladies Golf League at the Buffalo Grove Golf Course has announced the winners for the four flights.

"A" Flight winner was Lorraine Walker with a 53; "B" Flight honors were taken by Jerry Laurie with a 63; "C" Flight charged in with top place going to Mary Patterson with a nice 58, while "D" Flight moved right up there with a 68 brought in by Barb Olson.

This week the ladies will be playing for position. It will also be the final week of league play for this year.

The awards banquet will be held on Sept. 15. If reservations have not been made, or if you have not paid, please be sure to do so by Thursday morning. See Hildegarde Maher or call her at 537-6492.

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32.

This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Ordinance No. 0-56-72

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE MUNICIPAL CODE

BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Palatine, Cook County, Illinois:

SECTION 1: Section 19.501 of Article V of Chapter 19 is hereby amended by deleting sub-paragraph 41 designating Palatine Municipal Lot No. 4 as a permit parking lot therefrom in its entirety.

SECTION 2: Section 19.602 of Article VI of Chapter 19 is hereby amended by adding to the list of parking meter zones contained therein the following:

"A parking lot known as Palatine Municipal Lot No. 4 located at the northwest corner of Smith Street and Wilson Street in which the time limit shall be twelve (12) hours, Monday through Friday only."

SECTION 3: Section 19.602 of Article VI of Chapter 19 is hereby further amended by deleting the paragraph relating to Palatine Municipal Lot No. 8 in its entirety and substituting the following therefor:

"A parking lot known as Palatine Municipal Lot No. 8 located at the southwest corner of Smith Street and Colfax Street in which the time limit shall be twelve (12) hours Monday through Friday only."

SECTION 4: Section 19.1104 of Article XI of Chapter 19 is hereby amended by deleting the first sentence thereof in its entirety and substituting the following therefor:

"Any person accused of a violation of an ordinance prohibiting a vehicle in a metered area without putting a coin or coins in the meter to cover the required time, or restricting the length of time the vehicle may be there parked, and such illegal parking shall not have continued for longer than one hour beyond the time permitted, may settle and compromise the claim against him or her for such illegal parking by paying to the municipality the sum of ONE DOLLAR ($1.00) within 48 hours of the time such alleged offense wes committed; provided however, that any person accused of a violation of an ordinance prohibiting parking a vehicle in Palatine Municipal Lot No. 8 located at the southwest corner of Smith Street and Colfax Street, or in Palatine Municipal Lot No. 4 located at the northwest corner of Smith Street and Wilson Street without putting a coin or coins in the meter to cover the required time, or restricting the length of time the vehicle may be there parked, and such illegal parking shall not have continued for longer than one hour beyond the time permitted, may settle and compromise the claim against him or her for such illegal parking by paying to the municipality the sum of FIVE DOLLARS ($5.00) within 48 hours of the time such alleged offense was committed."

SECTION 5: All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 6: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided by statute.

PASSED: This 5th day of Sept., 1972.

Ordinance No. 0-55-72

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE MUNICIPAL CODE

BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Palatine, Cook County, Illinois:

SECTION 1: Article III of Chapter 12 of the Municipal Code of the Village of Palatine is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new Sections 12.302 and 12.303:

Section 12.302 School Zone Restrictions. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, offer to sell, barter or exchange ice cream or other food products from vehicles on any public street alley, highway or public way within 500 feet of a school between the hours of 7:30 A.M. and 4:30 P.M. on a day when school is in session; provided, however, that this section shall not preclude the delivery of any items previously ordered where the purchaser has requested the seller, in writing, to deliver such merchandise.

For the purpose of this ordinance, school property shall be measured from the property line of any lands owned by a public school district or a private or parochial school authorized to provide education by the State of Illinois.

Section 12.303 Hours of Operation. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, offer to sell, barter or exchange ice cream or other food products from vehicles on any public street, alley, highway, or public way between the hours of 8:30 P.M. and 6:30 A.M.

SECTION 2: All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided by statute.

Notice

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION OF PROMONTORY WEST PLANNED DEVELOPMENT, ARLINGTON HEIGHTS AND LAKE COOK ROADS, BUFFALO GROVE, ILLINOIS

Chesterfield Development Corporation, the owner/developer of a parcel of property in the Village, located at Arlington Heights and Lake Cook Roads, has asked that the Village reconsider the Promontory West Planned Development. Public hearings have already been held with respect to said proposed development, and on the 22nd day of May, 1972, the President and Board of Trustees refused to approve said development as then presented.

The Owner/Developer has revised his Planned Development and represented same to the Village authorities. The revised plan, among other things, reduces the density, changes the mix of dwelling units, adds recreational facilities and offers contributions to School District No. 96.

Notice is hereby given that the President and Board of Trustees, on September 18, 1972, at the hour of 8:00 P.M. at the Municipal Building, Village of Buffalo Grove, will reconsider the Planned Development as modified. All those present will be heard upon request.

Published by order of the President and Board of Trustees.

Zoning Legal Notice

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals, City of Des Plaines, will hold a public hearing on September 26, 1972 at 8 P.M. in the Municipal Building, Des Plaines, Illinois, to consider the following petition:

8:00 P.M.

Case 72-51-V (1815 Oakton Street)

Request for a VARIATION to permit construction of three apartments on the second floor above commercial first floor on property described as follows:

Lots 5, 6 and 7 in Reiling & Kaufmann's Add'n. to Riverview, a sub'n. of the N. 658.5' of the W.330.7' of the NE¼ of the NW¼ of Sec. 28. T-41-N, R-12, E. of the 3rd PM, according to the plat thereof recorded 9/22/1891, Doc. No. 1540050 in Cook County, Illinois; COMMONLY KNOWN AS: 1815 OAKTON STREET, DES PLAINES, ILLINOIS.

Subject property zoned "C-2 Commercial" 75'x125', located approximately 82' east of MAPLE STREET with a 15' public alley at the rear (south)

Petitioners: Scott, Ruark and Patterson, Wm. L. Kunkel & Co.

All interested parties should attend and will be given the opportunity to be heard.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
ALBERT L. GUNDELACH,
Secretary

Published in Des Plaines Herald September 11, 1972.

Public Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Palatine, Cook County, Illinois will hold a public hearing at the request of Robert A. and Karen Kohn to consider granting a variation in an R-2 District that would permit the erection of a 5 foot fence on the property line of a corner lot, instead of the 20 foot setback ordinarily required, on the following legally described property:

Lot 11 in Block 6 in Winston Park, Unit 6, being a re-subdivision of part of Palatine Heights, Unit 1, being a subdivision of the North Half of the Northeast Quarter of Section 24, Township 42 North, Range 10 East of the Third Principal Meridian in Cook County, Illinois commonly known as 140 Patricia Lane.

This hearing will be held on Thursday, September 28, 1972 at 8:00 p.m. in the Board Room of the Village Hall, 54 South Brockway Street, Palatine, Illinois.

All persons desiring to be heard on the question will be heard at this time.

DATED: This eleventh day of September, 1972.

DAVID KUH,
Chairman
Zoning Board of Appeals
Village of Palatine

Published in Palatine Herald Sept. 11, 1972.

Public Notice

NOTICE IS HEREBY given that the Plan Commission of the Village of Palatine, Cook County, Illinois will hold a public hearing at the request of Ralph Marotte, contract purchaser, to consider annexing the following legally described to the Village of Palatine with a zoning classification of R-3, or a special use that would permit a Planned Unit Development in an R-1 District, to wit:

Lots 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39 and 40 in Arthur T. McIntosh and Company's Palatine Farms, being a subdivision in Sections 15 and 16, Township 42 North, Range 10 East of the Third Principal Meridian in Cook County, Illinois, located at Wilson and Elm streets.

This hearing will be held on Tuesday, October 3, 1972 at 8:00 p.m. in the Board Room of the Village Hall, 54 South Brockway Street, Palatine, Illinois.

All persons desiring to be heard on the question will be heard at this time.

DATED: This eleventh day of September, 1972.
